Prominent Speakers at Club's Luncheon

Mrs. H. Prentiss Nichols Praises Narberth Club for Its Fine Work

MRS. ROSS ALSO SPEAKS

The annual fall luncheon of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth, held in the Parish Hall of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church on Tuesday, was a gala affair, with many prominent speakers.

Mrs. H. Prentiss Nichols, an honorary member of the club, made a delightful address and commended the club on the fine work it has done and is still doing in the community. Mrs. Nichols said she was justly proud of being an honorary member and always enjoyed being at their meetings. An ardent worker of the Red Cross, she stressed the point that all who could possibly give to this great organization in the coming drive should do so. She told the members never to forget that they were citizens of no mean country and that every woman should use her right of franchise.

Mrs. J. H. Hongler, president of the club, gave an interesting report of the State Federation meeting held at York, Pa., last week. She particularly noticed the smoothness of the business detail, the prompt beginnings of sessions and the organized responsibility.

Mrs. J. W. Darville, who was a delegate to the convention, gave a brilliant resume of the highlights of each of the meetings, among them being the speech of Dr. John C. McGregor, who advocated a change in the methods of teaching; "Whither Bound, Federation," by Mrs. Poole, and many other interesting features.

Mrs. C. Ellsworth Clark, president of the junior department of the club, in the absence of Mrs. Bernard Keenan gave the report on the activities of the junior department which, as she styled it, was a convention in a convention, as there were at least ninety-three Juniors present.

Mrs. Neal Anderson announced the winning of the Poster Prize at the Federation by the Senior Club, with the Juniors receiving honorable mention.

Mrs. Lucretia Blankenburg, the second guest speaker, introduced the subject of the Bi-Centennial Celebration to be held on Washington's birthday and advised all to learn and do what they could to make this day a red letter one in February. She dis-

Narberth Legion to Install Officers Monday Night

Installation of officers will take place at the regular meeting of the Harold D. Speakman Post, of Narberth, on Monday evening. The ceremony will be conducted by the 9th district commander, Leon Walt, of Royersford.

At this time John A. Mowrer, Jr., will succeed Frank A. Schrepfer as commander and Roland K. Hewitt will take Mr. Mowrer's place as finance officer.

A delegation from the Narberth Post, including Messrs. Mowrer, Hewitt, Schrepfer and Charles C. Clarke, will attend the annual banquet and election of the Forty and Eight at Pottstown on Tuesday.

Who Killed Gaylord Andrews and Who Will Give the Narberth Players Their Name?

These are two mysteries which confront the Borough residents in the coming attraction of the Narberth Players Club, to be presented at Elm Hall on November 12 and 13.

The thrilling mystery play, "Bilked," centering around the murder of Gaylord Andrews, will keep you guessing until the last word is spoken—but you will come away on the night of the production with the satisfaction of having seen a forceful, gripping and thrilling plot unravel itself before your eyes. Three prominent parts are being taken by three prominent Narberth residents—and when you hear the full cast of eighteen characters (later, not now!) you will certainly count yourself to be among those present—preferably among the "first nighters."

D. A. R. Speaker

REVIEWS LEAGUE'S WORK

Dr. John G. Herndon, Jr., lecturer on International Law at Haverford College and the University of Pennsylvania, was the guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, held on Monday at the home of the regent, Mrs. Hugh Glenn Martin, on Wayne Avenue, Narberth.

Dr. Herndon, who has spent some time in Geneva, has an intimate knowledge of the League of Nations and the various pacts and treaties which have been presented by the nations in that city, for, as he styled it, Geneva is now the world's capital. He gave a resume from the beginning of the League of Nations, from the end of the World War until the present time. All these pacts have had one object, he said, and that is the outlawry of war.

The League of Nations and the Kellogg Peace Pact, according to the speaker, are founded on the idea that the exigencies of international life can be met in many if not all the cases which are brought before them, without recourse to force.

The League Covenant, represented

CONTINUES TOMORROW

A delicious dinner served from 5 to 7 o'clock tonight on the first floor of Elm Hall will open the carnival for the benefit of the Narberth Fire Company, sponsored by the Mulieres, woman's auxiliary of the organization.

Those who are unable to partake of this dinner this evening may do so tomorrow as the cafeteria supper will be served then also from 5 to 7 P. M. Mrs. Edward S. Haws and Miss Flora Kurzenknabe head the dinner committee.

Many valuable prizes will be awarded at the carnival which will be open until 10:30 o'clock tonight and from 1 to 10:30 P. M. tomorrow. Among them are a man's and woman's wrist watch, a canary bird and cage, floor lamps and rugs, a box of canned goods, a ton of coal and many electrical appliances.

In the main hall upstairs, which will be decorated with balloons, will be many booths filled with attractive articles for sale. The grocery booth, loaded with staple articles which have been donated, is in charge of Mrs. A. J. Findeison and Mrs. A. J. Fredericks. Fancy goods and aprons, of which there is a great variety at a most modest price, are in charge of Mrs. Charles Harnden and Mrs. Edward Larney. The variety table, conducted

Meeting

"Education creates the stimulation and the challenge to achievement," according to a definition given by Edward H. Snow, principal of Lower Merion Junior High School, at the Narberth Parent-Teachers Association meeting held in Elm Hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Snow very splendidly explained the subject matter relating to his definition of education. He complimented the Narberth school children who had come under his supervision, which was very gratifying to the parents.

A business meeting followed the invocation by the Rev. Cletus A. Senft, of the Lutheran Church. Mrs. C. Fred Kuebler, Jr., sang three fairy songs and a lullaby as an encore, which were much enjoyed.

A meeting of the study group will be held at the home of Miss Pray, 310 Woodside Avenue, Wednesday morning, October 28, at 10:30 o'clock. Plans for the year will be discussed.

The speaker for the November meeting will be William H. Michaels, played a large sheet of printed material filled with bits of interesting facts of Washington and what he had accomplished. "This," said Mrs. Blankenburg, "is an education in itself, for on this sheet you can read everything Washington ever did, in which he seems to have made no mistakes, although I think he did make a few mistakes." Mrs. Blankenburg stressed the point that for the future good of the United States one should build a lasting patriotism in the present and coming generations not for war, but a political patriotism. She said that there had been a few patriotic politicians, but, alas, too few, and that what we needed most today throughout the world were honest people. She also advised the women to vote, even if they did not quite like the candidates they were voting for, and not to stay at home for this reason. Mrs. Blankenburg frankly admitted that women had made mistakes, but then, too, as she said, the men had been voting for 140 years and they had made quite a few also. Mrs. Blankenburg believes that the men and women should co-operate in the political affairs of the country.

The speaker ended with a witty account of her visit to the Canal Zone and her South American tour. All throughout her journeyings she found that the American and English women had clubs in the towns, but that the conditions of life of the native women did not spur them toward club life.

Mrs. Blankenburg had also a number of thrilling experiences in the revolutionary districts. When in Santiago, in the midst of a heavy rain-storm, she noticed a large sign which read: "Revolution postponed on account of rain."

Mrs. Abram Bunn Ross, State chairman of conservation and formerly president of the Montgomery Federation, gave a short address. She said that Montgomery was proud of the fact that Mrs. Richard J. Hamilton had been elected State president. Mrs.

Ross announced that the Past Presidents Club of Montgomery County were giving a benefit bridge at the Hannah Penn House on November 9 for the benefit of the Mary Morris Hamilton Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. C. Arley Farmer announced that Mrs. W. C. Newman, first vice president of the club, had been chosen as chairman of the Welfare drive for Narberth and the vicinity. The drive begins November 9 and the hearty co-operation of the community is desired.

The Reverend Samuel MacAdams gave the invocation at the opening of the meeting.

Miss Ernestine Bacon was the soprano soloist and gave two groups of songs. In the first group was "Dawn," by Perle Curran; "Lullaby," by Cyril Scott, and "Coming Home," by Willoughby. In the second group her selections were "Trees," by Rasbach, and "Toujour L'Amour," by Friml. The other soloist was Miss Helene Shortland Norton, pianist, who played "Etude Opus 10," Chopin, and "Fantasie," by Liszt.

Miss Frances Leedom Hess gave a number of entertaining original monologues and character sketches.

The program and luncheon were in charge of the hospitality committee of the club, of which Mrs. V. C. Krauskop is the chairman.

The next meeting of the club will be on Tuesday, November 3, in the Girl Scout wing of the Community Building. The speaker will be Nancy Byrd Turner, who will give a biographical sketch of her own life and a reading of her own poems. This program is in charge of the literature committee, of which Mrs. Caryl E. Starr is the chairman.

The next meeting of the reading class of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph R. Aiken, on Iona Avenue, next Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 P. M. Mrs. Henry W. Dotzenroth will review "Susan Spray."

The executive board luncheon and bridge for the benefit of the unemployed will be held at the Community Building on Tuesday, November 10, and will be in charge of the Welfare, Civic and American Home committees. The luncheon will be held in the Girl Scout wing and reservations may be

principal of the Media schools. Further details of this meeting will be announced later.

Mrs. W. G. Briner will be a delegate to the biennial conference of the Southeastern District of Pennsylvania Conference of Parents and Teachers at Pottstown on Friday and Saturday, October 30 and 31. Any members of the Parent-Teacher Association who will be able to attend the conference will find it most enjoyable and helpful.

The drive for new members will start Wednesday, November 4. On this date the workers will meet at the house of Mrs. A. C. Miller, 311 North Narberth Avenue, at 3:30 P. M.

Anyone who is interested in volunteering for this work will kindly call Narberth 3697-J. The committee is pleased to announce that 154 parents have joined during the last two months and they plan to extend a personal invitation to every parent who has not yet joined. It is very encouraging to the workers to see the wholehearted co-operation and attendance of both new and former patrons.

Fashion Show Repeated for Legion Auxiliary

The Fashion Show given by a number of the members of the Women's Community Club of Narberth at the meeting of the Auxiliary of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion in the Legion rooms on Tuesday evening, was a very successful affair and was very well attended. The Fashion Show was staged by Mrs. Suzanne Joret Gill and Mrs. Joseph H. Miller.

Costumes dating from the 70's to the modes of the present day were displayed. Those who were models were Mrs. John W. Joyce, Mrs. John Orth, Mrs. J. H. Belzer, Mrs. Walter Schlipp, Mrs. Edward Heymann, Mrs. H. F. Stevens, Mrs. James B. Smith, Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, Miss Alberta Davis, Miss Virginia Burgstresser, Mrs. Edward Larney, Mrs. E. Guy Steinfeld, Mrs. F. P. Barker, Mrs. Frank Stiefel and Mrs. L. J. Cowie.

Mrs. C. Fred Kuebler, Jr., was the soloist, and sang three selections. Among them were "Sylvan," by Sinding; "Little Damsel," by Novello, and "I Dream of Jeanie," by Foster. The accompanist was Mrs. Mary Lockhart March.

After the Fashion Show Mrs. Roland K. Hewitt, president of the Auxiliary, presented Miss Emma Mueller with the past president's pin.

The chief topic of discussion at the business meeting was that of the welfare work.

Lower Merion Holds Haverford to Tie

Both Teams Lacked Scoring Punch in Stirring Game.

PLAY LANSDOWNE SAT.

By TOMMY MACKLIN

The Maroons successfully weathered a storm last Saturday when they held a powerful high school football combination from Haverford at bay through four quarters of stirring play.

Cornog brought a heavy, well-balanced team to Pennypacker Field, and it took all the Adamites had to hold them away from the scoring zone. Max Forrest, star halfback of the visitors, was the most dangerous of the invaders, his driving rushes giving many a headache to the lighter men who barred his way.

Scoring opportunities occurred throughout the game for both elevens, but the necessary punch was not delivered at any time, and a scoreless draw was the result. Haverford was giving everything she had to overcome the Maroon and carry home the first victory over the Main Line eleven in the history of their rivalry, but the home team always had enough in reserve to halt the seemingly inevitable score.

Lower Merion's big chance to score was interrupted rudely by an official penalty of fifteen yards when the boys were on the ten-yard line or thereabouts. This was a dash of cold water on their inspirations and the threat ended abruptly.

Harvey Buck, Herb Thomas and Captain Lachman Rinehart were the local boys who held the spotlight throughout the game. They played wonderful ball and, with Mike Iacovelli doing some sterling work on the defense, the team showed a great deal of power both on offense and defense.

The team certainly deserves credit for a sterling performance, and the fans seem to think that Coach Adam and his assistants have done a fine piece of work with green material. The boys go to Lansdowne tomorrow, and should win handily, though there must be no letup if the victory be clean-cut.

Rotarians Hear Veterinarian at Meeting on Tuesday

An outline of the tie-up between man and animals in certain phases of veterinary medicine formed the topic of a talk Tuesday by Dr. Malcolm Harkins, speaking before the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club.

Dr. Harkins, who is a recognized authority on this phase of comparative medicine, made special mention of anthrax, cow pox, foot and mouth disease and hog erysipelas. Anthrax, he said, is contracted by man from contact with hides or hair on which the germs lurk. It usually is a local affliction.

Cow pox, during the days when smallpox was a prevalent affliction, was found to create an immunity to the more deadly disease. As a result, it became the basis for vaccine. Foot and mouth disease, Dr. Harkins said, rarely attacks adults. There are now no cases in the country.

The fact that there are fewer horses and cattle, but that these are of a higher standard, was brought out, together with a comment on the rapid increase in small pets.

Dr. Ezra S. Deubler introduced the speaker.

To Speak at Kiwanis

Frank A. Schrepfer, of Narberth, assistant professor of landscape architecture, will be the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Main Line Kiwanis Club next Tuesday evening at Whitehall, Haverford. He will talk on "Hitting the Low Spots."

Local Movies

Exceptional Shows Are Listed at Narberth Theatre

This week-end brings to Narberth James Dunn and Sally Eilers in Frank Borsage's interesting movie version of Vina Delmar's human best-selling story, "Bad Girl." Several good features are listed for the Saturday matinee, including Richard Dix, Tim McCoy and Laurel and Hardy.

Eddie Dowling, Ray Dooley, Raymond Hatton, Mary Carr and June Collyer head the cast in "Honeymoon Lane," a clean, funny comedy recommended for the whole family. It is not a musical comedy. At Narberth next Monday and Tuesday.

Recently, students at Northwestern University surprised Al Capone, Public Enemy No. 1, by booing him at a football game. This surprising derision in a period of so-called "gangster worship" might well have been inspired by witnessing the greatest anti-gangster cinema, "The Star Witness," which no one should miss at the Narberth theatre next Wednesday and Thursday. Walter Huston as a big city district attorney tries to sentence a gang-leader whose murder of a would-be tell-tale was witnessed by an average American family. The gangsters in order to silence the family, resort to intimidation, beating and kidnapping. "The Star Witness" saves his kidnapped grandson and leads to the smashing of the gangsters' power. No romantic drama this, but a swift-moving, gripping tale that deserves the outstanding success it has become in the city theatres of the land.

Distinctly not to be missed by fun-lovers in Maurice Chevalier's latest picture, "The Smiling Lieutenant," which is coming to Narberth next week-end.

New Truck for Narberth Coal; Other Business Bits

A new two-ton coke truck was put in service this week by Ralph S. Dunne's Narberth Coal Company. The very latest and best in equipment of its kind, it was purchased from the Richards-Fisher Company, Ford dealers in Cynwyd. The Ford chassis has a Fitzgibbons & Crisp coke body, specially designed, with an elevation of ten feet when hoisted, and a side chute. The coal company will use it for deliveries of Koppers Rainey-Wood Coke, for which it was a pioneer dealer in 1922. By the way, Mr. Dunne is the Jeddo-Highland coal dealer who writes the copy for ads that appear Wednesdays in a Philadelphia paper, and also originates the station announcements used by Jeddo-Highland in 5:30 P. M. broadcasts over the radio every Monday and Wednesday.

Shea's Pharmacy in Narberth and King's Pharmacy in Cynwyd are celebrating National Pharmacy Week this week with special window displays. They are recognized as outstanding in this section for accuracy and care in compounding prescriptions.

Patrons of the Egyptian Theatre have wondered about the absence of William Gough, doorman there, the past two months. He died at his home in West Philadelphia last Thursday, after a lingering illness.

Hunters Banned From Penn Valley Section

The Penn Valley section is being posted against hunting. Signs to this effect will be erected on entrance roads this week-end and private properties will be similarly posted in the near future.

The action was decided upon at a meeting of the executive committee of the Penn Valley Association this week in order to protect the wild life in the section.

Three men from the Lower Merion Police reserves will be engaged to patrol the grounds, and property owners have agreed to prosecute violators.

Madge Evans are in the strong supporting cast. There are scenes of the South and of the Kentucky Derby, etc. Coming soon are "Bad Girl" and "Monkey Business."

Science Club Elects

At a meeting held on Tuesday, the Science Club elected officers for the coming year. Russell Wood will take the chair, with Walter Chewning as vice president and Frank Witmer as secretary-treasurer.

At this meeting an interesting experiment was performed by David Thomas. It was that which showed fire under water. This phenomenon was explained later by Mr. Keever, club sponsor, as the reaction of phosphorus, potassium chlorate, sulphuric acid and water. Another interesting experiment will be performed at the club's next meeting a week from Tuesday.

Girls' Hi-Y

An event to promote good feeling and enthusiasm among the girls has been held lately by the Girls' Hi-Y. It was a tea given to entertain all the girls of the sophomore class. Miss Helen Hubbard, faculty adviser of the organization, reports that besides this, the Girls' Hi-Y has undertaken to sell candy in the front corridors each day after school and in the grandstands during the football games. This enterprise, it was learned, is highly profitable.

Boys' Hi-Y

The Boys' Hi-Y organization, under the direction of Vincent V. Pearce, has been selling students and spectators to football games, snappy pennants bearing the school colors, maroon and white. Also armbands, pillow cases, caps and pins, all made in the colors, have been on sale. They have added greatly to the appearance of the Lower Merion stands during athletic meets.

French Club

The Junior-Senior French Club, under the advisement of Miss Baker, has started the year with a "bang." At the last meeting Dr. Theodore Le-Boutillier showed and explained moving pictures which he had taken while touring France. The description was made very interesting, for all the talking was in French.

Next Tuesday several members of the club will present a play. Among the characters who will take part are Lois Rinehart, Embury Rucker, Robert Braid and Thomas Bevan.

Jobs Wanted Here

To the Editor of Our Town:

Some of our Italian citizens out of work in the Woodbine Avenue section are asking why they cannot have positions in the borough service. At least four of these jobs are held by men living in Ardmore, West Manayunk and Camden who pay no taxes in our borough. The men who want these jobs are citizens, taxpayers and long-time residents of Narberth.

Practically all men out of work in Narberth have applied at the township headquarters which is employing men in large quantities for road work only to be told to go back to the borough of Narberth where they pay taxes. They have enough men of their own out of work without employing outsiders. During these depression times our borough fathers should give this matter their consideration.

All Out for the Carnival

The Carnival which opens in Elm Hall tonight and continues tomorrow offers residents of the Borough and vicinity an opportunity to acquire useful articles, partake of a delicious home-cooked supper and amuse themselves while aiding a most worthy cause.

The Mulieres, auxiliary of the Narberth Fire Company, which is sponsoring the affair, includes 150 women who have been working for months to make the affair a success. All the proceeds will go to the Fire Company and will be used as the Company sees fit, doubtless to reduce the mortgage on the building.

This event offers an opportunity to citizens to give concrete expression of their appreciation of the work of the firemen who are ready at all times to do their utmost in saving life and property in the Borough from loss by fire.

The Narberth Fire Company is one of the best equipped and most efficient volunteer units in the suburbs and the fact that Narberth enjoys the lowest fire insurance rates of any section on the Main Line is evidence of the high opinion of it held by the Suburban Fire Underwriters who fix the rates.

The Borough Council contributes heavily to the expense of fire fighting equipment but the upkeep and carrying charges on the building, which serves many community purposes, is borne by the Fire Company.

Are the Frontier Days Returning?

Lower Merion Police are again under criticism, for the second time in a month, for firing upon innocent persons. The episode, which came to light at the end of last week, fortunately did not involve the wounding or injury of anyone. That it occurred so soon after the incident in which a hosiery manufacturer was shot, is regrettable, as the inference of the casual observer is that such shootings are a regular occurrence in the Township.

No doubt all the officers involved in either of these affairs, or their superiors for that matter, will testify to the truth of the refrain in the "Pirates of Penzance" that "a policeman's lot is not a happy one." They are charged with upholding the law and just what measures may be necessary in individual cases is a question each officer must decide for himself at the time.

The use of a revolver should be a last resort, justified only in self-defense or to prevent injury or death to some innocent person. To fire upon a pedestrian or automobile upon suspicion is unjustified.

Any citizen must stand ready to account for his actions upon request of a uniformed officer of the law, or of a plainclothes man upon proper identification. But must a pedestrian risk his wallet when challenged by an unkempt stranger; must a motorist take his life in his hands by stopping in answer to a flashlight in the dark?

If these two incidents are but normal events in line of duty, why did days elapse before the news transpired? Why is the average citizen given the impression that something is being held back? Certainly prompt and complete information to the public is a vital police duty. Suppressed news of this character is very apt to act as a boomerang on the department.

Let us hope that this Wild West spirit of the itching trigger finger will stop where it is. We should not have to wait until the chairman of the police committee is carried in with a bullet between his ribs, fired by a mistaken officer "in line of duty."

The rapid growth of club activities on the Main Line, with community dramatics on the increase, is a pleasant sign of the times. Nothing is more typical of suburban life than the fostering of neighborly activities within each of the many towns making up this section.

If you doubt that we are becoming more air-minded, just make a note of the number of airplanes observed over the Main Line in one day, and then compare with your recollection of conditions a year ago.

Two months to Christmas!

The Spectator

At the ball-dinner the other night, Stoney McInn told the crowd that he was still a Narberthite to the extent of keeping his bank account in our local National and the statement which the Metzger-McCrery institution printed in Our Town last week indicated the sports scribe was using pretty solid judgment. Our guess is that the very same statement is going to attract a great deal more Borough business than is there now, and so it should, as you would have to go far afield to parallel the manner in which the half-million deposits are propped up for quick liquidation. Not a dollar is owed to the outside world and the tidy assets are balanced in a skillful fashion which makes it very evident that a highly conservative and prudent management is alert at the helm.

When some of those Philadelphia dead-duck banks start to cough up on dividends, as will be the case soon, it may be expected that our Narberth National's deposits will reflect that the money is coming home, and whilst the proud publisher has put no such thought in our head, our suggestion to friends Carl and James is to continue that very impressive advertisement, for the good it will do to a perturbed public and also, of course, for the increased patronage which should and will flow from it.

Mr. Fox's thorough-going letter, also in last week's issue, makes a number of excellent points and there will be general agreement in its implication that those in Council have a claim on another term if they want it and if they have earned the right to it. We are fond of saying that in a town like this American procedure is in its best estate when we see capable and conscientious gentlemen applying themselves painstakingly to civic affairs without any compensation except the satisfaction derived from the contemplation of a task well done. It all takes a great deal of time and attention, very much more than is generally supposed, and it would seem on occasions that criticism is more frequently their portion than is acclaim.

On the other hand, and to maintain a proper virility in the body politic, it is the unquestioned right of any qualified person to enter the lists, for a bit of public service fits well in the life-record of any good man, and John Mowrer is quite a likely lad for a Councilmanic berth. He is well informed, aggressive and able and ought to serve exceedingly well. Our advice to him is to make the fight on his own merits, not to contest Mr. Bates because of the attitude which was struck on the zoning business. Mr. Fox is dead right in what he says on that score and Mr. Bates did an altogether sane and sound job in the difficult work which was his.

There is nothing effusive about Bates, and he may lack some of those things which are called "popular qualities," as is the case with many an effective fellow, but there is not a question in the world about his splendid judgment, his real talents or his efficient administration. John Mowrer is too solid to run on any basis other than that he would like a turn at the office and Mr. Bates would be the first to recognize his privilege to do that very thing.

We see also that the irrepressible C. P. Cook is in the Mail Bag with a typical tax tirade and there is going to be no stopping that entrepreneur until he sees achieved the situation he is after. There's no half-way business about Cook and if you start him on a track he won't leave it until he arrives at destination with the full facts and figures. We like him a lot, and so does everybody else who gets under that gruff guard he is disposed to throw about himself, but there was a time when we thought he was pretty much of a hard-boiled egg, almost the 10-minute variety.

It happened during our first winter in Narberth and, as is our wont, we were holding forth long past the booming midnight when a robust rap came on the backdoor. Answering it, we beheld a frozen female on the icy steps, for it was a fierce night and sleet and snow held full sway. We quickly hustled the poor thing to the kitchen range (it's gone now, alas!), gave her first aid as best we could and as she gradually thawed out we got her story.

She was Cook's cook, she said, and had returned to the Borough about 11 P. M. from her day off. She had only been out this way for a week and, confused by the blinding storm, had wandered in the wrong direction, as there were no cabs at the station when she arrived. Apparently she had been out in the terrible weather nearly two hours when she hit in on us, going aimlessly around in circles, and she was indeed a sorry sight.

Well, at that time we didn't know Cook nor where he lived, and neither did we know anything about the two bridges in Narberth which you had to cross, the cook said, to reach his house. Finally, we put on our coat and went scouting along Main Street to learn what we could about the Cook whose cook was lost, and as this was nearly 2 A. M. it means we were an optimist, as one could be in the days that have gone.

Narberth's police force was long since tucked in his bed, but Ray Weiss' garage had a lonely light and there we learned that in isolation on Rockland Avenue, over Merion way, our quarry could be found. Home again and to the telephone, which we had hesitated to use until we got the right Cook without arousing, at unseemly hour, in the throes of their heavy sleep, all the wrong Cooks, as surely would have been the case.

Instantly the ring was answered and we told Cook we had his cook, and in sore distress.

"Why, I have been waiting up hours for her," he said, "and I'll tell you what to do. Call up Donahue and tell him to get a machine over for her."

"Is that so," says we, "suppose you call Donahue yourself."

"All right, I will," says he, and we say "You bet you will."

We were wondering how he expected to get Donahue at such an unearthly hour, but he said he could, and we let it go at that. Nothing came along, however, and after a while we called again. He said Donahue's car was in a ditch on Montgomery Avenue and he supposed we would have to be patient, as it was a rough night and driving altogether hazardous.

Meanwhile, the cook is lamenting her plight more grievously and garrulously than ever and we decide to take a chance on the roads ourselves. We pull out a chainless and capricious Ford and start to slip and slide over the route of the two bridges. Turning into Rockland Avenue, its stark blackness little penetrated by the feeble glow of the flivver's lights, the lacrymose lady grabs us by the arm and plaintively asks our charge for taking her to her sister's house in South Philadelphia. She offers $3, but we couldn't be persuaded, and we continue to grope our way along, now and then on the road (mostly then), until in due course the lantern on Cook's porch tells us we are there.

'Time Out'

By TOMMY MACKLIN

Football will remain a healthy sport for the youth of this nation as long as "upsets" occur each season to keep the lads from becoming too well satisfied with themselves.

The best thing that could have happened to the Lower Merion team was the defeat at the hands of Episcopal Academy early in the season. Another fine idea occurred to Fate when she permitted Haverford School to ride over Friends' Central last Friday.

Columbia defeated Dartmouth and caused eighteen million eyes to expand in wonder. Harvard overcame Army and the Mule forgot to bray. It was a great day for football.

When a fighting team aspires to great heights, it takes another inspired team to hold it at bay. If Lower Merion had won from Episcopal Academy then the Maroon colors would have dipped in defeat to the West Catholic horde. As it was, the lads of Adam knew that to win every man must do or be carried off the field. The result was a marvelous show of pluck and stamina. Yes, a little reversal from the fates is a powerful remedy for the self-satisfaction ailment.

Friends' Central boasts a fine group of boys in what has been called an all-star aggregation. Haverford School has a list of boys whose names are not known to the reading public. Yet the unknowns spiked the guns of the well-advertised star team from Overbrook. It's a good thing, fellows.

Great things happening to former Lower Merion boys. Jim Turner is regular tackle for Swarthmore College now. Johnny Pennypacker is an end on the Penn freshman football team. Penny and the team went up to New York Saturday to play Columbia Fresh. The boys from "Dots de Collech" smothered the Red and Blue something like 26 to 0.

The Penn boys registered at the Pennsylvania over night. Paul Bayshore, former Lansdowne star tackle, and Pennypacker roomed together. After breakfast Saturday morning they toured the hotel, seeing the sights and failed to join the team as they left the hotel for the football field. They did not know where the game was to be played, but finally arrived on the field before the first quarter was over. "Big" King, a great tackle from Upper Darby High, played a whale of a game for the Columbia Fresh. They have almost the entire Kiski team from last year. An amusing incident was the accident which happened to tackle Smith of the Penn team. He fell out of bed and broke his wrist Friday night and was unable to play in the game.

Pennypacker went into the game at the beginning of the second quarter. We notice that Columbia scored all their points during the first quarter.

This writer will referee the Penn Fresh-St. Joseph game at the Palestra after the New Year. Al Mandes will be playing on St. Joseph's, and Johnny Pennypacker on the Penn team. We'll have a Main Line smoker in the dressing room.

Nothing less than a six can give you built-in smoothness

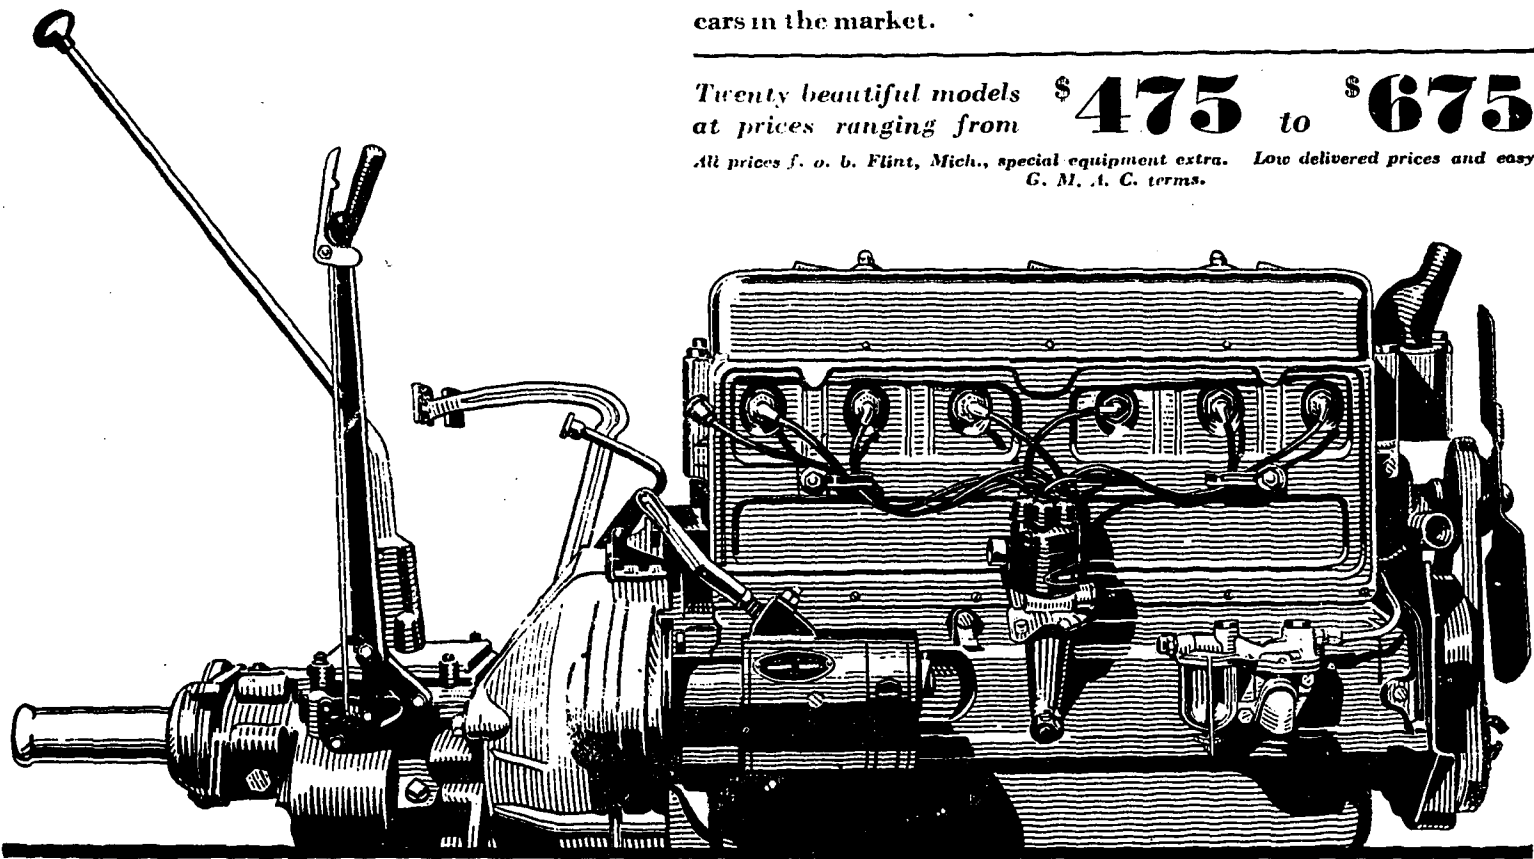

The whole question was settled long ago—as to how many cylinders it takes in a motor car engine to give satisfactory smoothness. Science definitely established the fact that at least six are necessary. And today, the public accepts the multi-cylinder engine in the same way that it accepts 4-wheel brakes, parallel-mounted springs and every other principle of proved and acknowledged superiority. Everybody knows that nothing less than a six can give you built-in smoothness.

This general acceptance of the multi-cylinder idea has had a great deal to do with the fact that the Chevrolet, month after month, during 1931, has been the largest selling automobile. For Chevrolet is a six.

Today, this six-cylinder smoothness and dependability are within reach of every new car buyer. For Chevrolet has produced a quality car, powered it with a firmly-mounted six-cylinder motor—engineered it to run at less expense for gas, oil and upkeep than any other car—and priced it right down among the very lowest-priced cars in the market.

Magician to Perform at Methodist Church

An unusual opportunity will be given the community to enjoy an evening of fun and mystery, bluff and illusion, under the sway of the magic wand of C. Victor Dealy, unprofessional but star magician, at the Narberth M. E. Church, at 8 o'clock sharp, Thursday evening, November 5th.

Mr. Dealy is well-known as a Scout Master, having spent many years in building up Boy Scout work, and has been for eighteen years Musical Director of the P. R. R. Accounting Department Glee Club; but aside from this, he has intimate acquaintance with the whole field of American Magicians, being president of the Yogi Club of Philadelphia Magicians, and vice-president of the Society of American Magicians. Entertaining before Keller and Herrmann, Houdini and Thurston, Mr. Dealy drew spontaneous laughter from these great ones as he "pulled the wool over their eyes" with original tricks. Many veterans of the World War will recall his work overseas as an entertainer in magic.

Men and women will be boys and girls again as they join with the children in this great festival of real fun. Don't miss it!

Faith MacAuliffe Heads

Christian Endeavor Group

The Christian Endeavor group of the Narberth Presbyterian Church held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ainsworth Smith of Rock Glenn Road, Pennwynne, on Friday evening when the following officers were elected: President, Faith MacAuliffe; Vice President, Henry Ainsworth Smith; Secretary, Amy Enion; and Treasurer, Harold Peeves. The business meeting was followed by a social time which included a number of games and singing. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, on Saturday evening, November 7.

Indian Missionary to Speak

Martha B. Loud, a missionary from Ramabai Mukti Mission, India, will speak at the Narberth Presbyterian Church this Sunday evening at 7:45. Miss Loud's work was with the child widows, deserted child wives and unwanted baby girls of India. She has a vital message for all who hear her.

Herndon Gives Views on Manchuria Dispute

by the League Council and the Kellogg Pact, joined forces to settle the Japanese-Chinese dispute. The Japanese objected to the United States sitting in on the conference and, according to Dr. Herndon, were playing for time. European leaders are happy in having the United States so intimately related with the League affairs, but many of the citizens are having some misgivings as to the result.

The United States, in acting upon a doctrine of collective responsibility for preserving world peace, has laid itself open to the recriminations of the Japanese, Dr. Herndon said.

The Japanese look upon the control of Manchuria as a matter of life and death. They say that they must have free access to the vast natural resources of this region at all times, and in order to carry this out they insist that the Chinese Government be friendly. They claim their measures have been purely defensive. Chinese soldiers in Manchuria outnumber the Japanese twenty to one. There was also a movement to form a Chinese Government of which the Japanese did not approve. It seemed the most natural thing in the world to disarm the Chinese forces before the unfriendly Government could be set up and to seize strategic points until the dangerous situation should be clarified.

Dr. Herndon also spoke of President Hoover's foreign policy which lately has attracted a great deal of attention, and of his sending Prentiss Gilbert to Geneva, for the business of the United States Consuls at Geneva has principally been commercial. This year, especially in February at the big disarmament conference, the United States will be in on the ground floor at the conference.

contest is progressing. Put on your thinking caps, and join in the fun and the interest in selecting a name by which this dramatic group can be known.

Remember that subscription tickets are now available which entitle the purchaser to membership privileges of the club, plus two tickets each to each of the three productions to be given through the coming season—one in November, one in February and one in May. It is only by subscription that entrance to first-night performances can be obtained, single admission tickets being for second nights of the show only, and costing more proportionately than the full series. The advantages are great—the cost small—we suggest your name on a check for $2.50 mailed to the treasurer, Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, 444 Woodbine Avenue, who will send membership card at once.

Announcement of the winning name will be made at the opening performance Thursday, November 12, at Elm Hall.

(x) No frost—as yet.

Daffodil planting time.

"All the rain in the April sky would never bring the garden miracles of May unless October toil gave it something to work on." We quote from the New York Times magazine of October 4. The May miracles are, of course, the tulip blooms from October-planted bulbs but the April miracle is even more welcome for its earliness—the golden gleam of the gardeners' faithful friends—narcissi. Not such a wide range of color as the tulips but more interesting in their varied forms and their long season of flowering.

Narcissi for naturalizing should be of the short cup varieties, the early poeticus preferred. The Leedsis or Barris look well and even the incomparabilis forms are suitable. The long trumpets just don't look right growing wild, at least not in this country. They are so much used by florists for forcing that they seem out of place on the edge of the woodland. Poeticus recurvus with jonquils for early and poeticus ornatus for late are the best choice.

Still plenty of time to set perennial plants; not quite so good as late September, but the roots will develop before hard freezing. All fall-planted perennials should be mulched lightly with salt hay to prevent the sun from thawing the soil, the mulch to be applied about Christmas time.

Thanksgiving day is about the best time to sow seeds of hardy annuals in the perennial beds, bulb beds or in the cutting garden. The idea is to sow the seeds so that they will not germinate but will be ready to grow in very early spring before we can get the soil in condition for planting.

If we are so fortunate as to be given a "winter garden" of mosses, partridge berry, spotted wintergreen, rattlesnake plantain and other lovesome woodland plants be sure that it is kept in a north or northwest window where the sun will not burn it. And be sure to keep the glass cover on the bowl to prevent the evaporation of moisture. Such glass gardens are becoming more popular since we are coming to appreciate the beauty of our own native woodland plants. To see these little treasures flowering several months ahead of their appointed time is bringing the spring indoors while winter storms without.

November is the better time to move deciduous shrubs, after their leaves have fallen and while the plants are dormant. The plants will be all ready to go in early spring and we get better plants. Many of the shrubs offered for sale in spring have been dug the previous fall and kept in storage all winter.

The same applies to roses. Fall planting of field-grown roses has proven most satisfactory for the same reasons. If Labor Day is peony planting day, Columbus Day tulip planting day and Armistice Day narcissus planting day then Thanksgiving Day must be rose planting day. Every holiday is a good day to plant something; in fact, the majority of all work in the hardy garden may be accomplished in September, October and November. All we need is the time, the energy, the will and the money! Plant more bulbs this fall and they will be welcome next spring if business is not so good—but things by that time will be so much better that you will be sorry that you didn't order twice as much.

(x) We write on Tuesday, the 20th.

Penn Valley Garden Club Meets at Mrs. Pfeffer's Home

The third gathering of the Penn Valley Garden Club this season was held Tuesday morning at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Pfeffer on Mill Road and Moreno Road, Penn Valley. Mrs. John A. LaFore, of Penn Valley Farm, president of the society, presided. About 25 members attended this business meeting. Plans were formed as to the future meetings, held each month, and arrangements made for speakers to address the society on varied subjects in keeping with the aims of this group, comprising residents of Penn Valley.

Just as Simple as Separating Wood from Stone —and yet the new D & H coal-cleaning process has revolutionized the preparation of Anthracite.

Huge metal cones contain coal which is washed in a mixture of sand and water, so that it actually floats.

D & H Anthracite, from Pennsylvania's richest deposits, now sets a new high fuel standard.

Millions of dollars have been spent for new equipment for this process, which definitely assures you the cleanest and best fuel obtainable.

—And the price is no higher than the regular Philadelphia Circular Price obtaining in this section.

PLAYERS GET AWARDS

BY DAVE CASEY

Manager Gene Davis and his Narberth diamond warriors were the guests of honor last Thursday night at a testimonial banquet in historic Elm Hall. Some hundred and twenty-five of the representative citizenry turned out to acclaim the 1931 edition of the Narberth club, which lost a hard-fought championship series to the Paoli club, breaking a streak of four straight Main Line titles won by Borough teams. However, although not fortunate enough to capture the pennant this year, the boys gave Narberth fans a season of tiptop baseball and their splendid feat in capturing the second-half title with a gallant three-game winning streak over the Labor Day week-end will not be soon forgotten. Another notable event in their season was their triumph over the mighty Hilldale team, the first victory over this aggregation in the history of Borough baseball.

Although Jimmy Wilson and George Earnshaw, advertised speakers, were unable to appear, the big leagues were well represented in the after-dinner speaking galaxy introduced by club President William H. Durbin, who acted as toastmaster.

Jimmy Dykes, the Oakmont orator and star third baseman of the Athletics, was on hand and made one of his usual witty addresses, telling many amusing incidents of player vs. umpire debates in the American League and also voicing an emphatic protest against the action of some of the Philadelphia fans in making Mickey Cochrane the "goat" of the recent World Series. Another baseball notable who spoke was Harry Hooper, present Princeton baseball coach and the famous right fielder of the great Boston Red Sox teams of pre-war days. Mr. Hooper gave an interesting talk on the considerable differences in the style of play in the game, contrasting the playing for one run, base-stealing type of game prevalent in his day with the slam-bang free-hitting style of the last ten years which was inaugurated by the home-run drives of Babe Ruth. Other speakers of the evening were former State Senator Fletcher Stites, a great Narberth pitcher in his day; Jack Kelly, Philadelphia's famous oarsman; Stoney McLinn, the popular sports writer; J. J. Cabrey and Fred Walzer. Another big leaguer who was on hand was Narberth's former pitching star, Walter Masters, now a member of the Washington Senators. Manager Gene Davis induced Walter to take a bow but no urging by the assemblage could make the modest Masters attempt a speech.

As a token of appreciation from the club and the fans of Narberth the regular players were presented with twenty dollars in gold by Manager Gene Davis. The players receiving the awards were Harry King, John Jackson, Bill Reynolds, Jim McKee, Jack Jefferies, Herb Baker, Walt MacGregor, Bob Jones, Barney Slaughter, Harry Francis, Bob Martin, Joe Rubincam and Ray Young.

Firemen's Carnival Opens Tonight in Elm Hall

by Mrs. Isaac McHose and Mrs. C. H. Bartlett, offers many interesting items. Cigars and cigarettes and hot dogs will be sold at the booth in charge of Mrs. George Gilpin, Jr. and Mrs. Charles Haist. Toys and dolls to delight the hearts of the small tots are offered at the booth conducted by Mrs. Robert J. Nash, Mrs. Albert Nulty and Mrs. Clifford W. Bates. One may stock up with toilet articles at the table in charge of Mrs. Frank X. Purcell and Mrs. Lindley Trotter. The Cake Booth is in charge of Mrs. A. J. Bawden and Mrs. C. C. Tyson while Candy and Ice Cream are dispensed at the booth conducted by Miss Margarretta Runyon and Mrs. E. C. Griswold. Many attractive and unusual foreign goods will be offered at the Foreign Goods Booth in charge of Mrs. Lloyd B. Edgerton and Mrs. Charles Bruneel. The linen booth will be manned by Mrs. Frederick A. Egmore and Mrs. Charles Viguers, Jr.

A radio game will be another of the carnival's attractions and this will be in charge of Mrs. John E. Rurrell and Mrs. William Loughlin.

All proceeds from the carnival will be donated to the fire company. Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller is president of the Mulieres and Mrs. E. H. Cockrill is general chairman of the carnival. Mrs. William M. Sibley has had charge of the soliciting while the purchasing has been done by Mrs. Mueller.

At the dinner and bazaar given by the Mulieres for the fire company in January, 1930, $1800 was raised and the women hope this affair will prove equally successful.

The Mulieres have received a splendid collection of pictures from Sessler's, of Walnut Street, Philadelphia. These pictures originally sold at $25 and up. To aid the Narberth Fire Company they are being offered at 10 per cent. of their cost. These pictures would grace the walls of any fine home and make splendid Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Isaac McHose and Mrs. Charles Bartlett will have charge of the variety table at the Firemen's Carnival.
